Pangu v1.0.1 jailbreak tool for iOS 9.0-9.0.2.1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a toner for developing an electrostatic image, a toner container, a toner supply method, a toner supply device, an image forming method, an image forming apparatus, and a recording medium. 2. Discussion of the Background In recent years, toners for developing an electrostatic image (hereinafter, simply referred to as “toners”) have been required to have high releasability so as to be used for copying machines, printers and the like, and to be free from environmental issues, such as fixing natures and ozone adsorption, and to be highly safe. Such toners include toners containing resin particles as a principal component, which contains a pigment such as a titanium oxide and carbon black, as a colorant, and can be obtained by a kneading and pulverizing process. However, it is difficult to improve the releasability of the toners by merely adjusting the toner particle diameter and the amount of the additives added.

Therefore, studies have been made for the compositions of the resin particles
