For a fast and easy handling of your text format keystrokes. KEYMACRO is intended to assist you in the creation of numerous macros. The software consists of a selection of instructions that will be recognized with the keyboard. The macros you create can be assigned to keystrokes, mouse gestures, mouse clicks, hot-keys and Windows commands. If you don't have the time to write all the instructions on your own, you can save your efforts and use pre-created modules. The macros can be defined on any keyboard layout and not just on the standard US English layout. The module which is assigned to the currently active keyboard layout is highlighted in the program. KEYMACRO works with other programs. It supports the most common Windows and Macintosh applications and allows you to create hot-keys or assign macros to mouse gestures. The program is easy to use and its dialogs are very clear. The instructions of a module can be edited individually and inserted into a single module. You can save the module into your system by saving it in a compressed ZIP file. Note: This is a free version of KEYMACRO and has limited functionality. There is a Pro version available which offers many more options and has full Unicode support.
