Here are the issues you need to worry about when sharpening an image .Rancho Cañada de los Ferros Rancho Cañada de los Ferros was a Mexican land grant in the territory of present-day La Cañada Flintridge, California. It was granted in 1842 by Governor Manuel Micheltorena to José María Verdugo. Verdugo named the grant after a Mexican mining camp called La Cañada de los Ferros that he founded in the Gómez Adobe. The other party in the homesteaded area was Rancho El Aliso y Sesperanza. With the cession of California to the United States following the Mexican–American War, the 1848 Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo provided that the land grants would be honored. As required by the Land Act of 1851, a claim for Rancho Cañada de los Ferros was filed with the Public Land Commission in 1852, and the grant was patented to José Verdugo in 1877. However, I have created a separate UI to organize them. The problem is that when I start the app on a tabbed layout, it's too small and doesn't have enough space to show the relative layout and so on. I've made it so that each tab uses TabHost.TabSpec and the tabs can be switched via the TabHost.setCurrentTab() method. The TabHost has an inner TabHost that is hidden and has 4 tabs in it. The inner TabHost does not have any layout at all. When a button on the tab is clicked, the tab host is made visible, the relative layout for the tab
