Digital pictures are like souvenirs. They're small, discrete and can be taken in any situation. But it's not so simple to share them online. We have a whole set of tools to send them to various social networks, but these are not ideal. You have to first click on the image to get to the site and then decide what you want to do. Pumpic is a free service that lets you share your digital images online, very easily. It's especially useful if you have a lot of them, you don't use the social networks and have to move a lot of files. With this reliable and stable tool, you can create, print and convert PDF files.

PDF/X-1a/PDFLib allows you to create, print and convert PDF files. What can you create using

PDF/X-1a/PDFLib? Create PDF files using the new "Save As PDF" command in the toolbar of any standard Windows application, or with the PDF generator. Print and convert them to other formats, like TIFF, TIF, JPG, JPEG, GIF, BMP and PNG.

You can also configure your printer to send PDF files directly to the printer. What can I add to a PDF file?

You can add text and images to PDF documents. You can also add bookmarks, change the font and font size, change the opacity of the images, change the background color, change the number of pages in the document and more. PDF/X-1a/PDFLib uses a simple method to open any type of files to be read and processed by this software: the OLE file format, which allows documents to be read in a way that is similar to that used by most Office applications. It's compatible with other applications that use this file format, like Microsoft Word, Microsoft Excel,

Microsoft PowerPoint or WordPerfect. Can I access the printer when I print a PDF file?

PDF/X-1a/PDFLib is based on the OpenOffice product, so you can use all the standard features of OpenOffice.org, such as the ability to import and export PDF files, to write and edit them, to print them and to save them in other formats. However, the only way you can print to a specific printer from PDF/X-1a/PDFLib is through the Print to file feature. PDF/X-1a/PDFL
