with deeper stats, Ultimate Team offers the biggest and most exciting roster of players ever in a FIFA game. FIFA 2K17 - Get Under the Hood I have played this game from the very beginning, I enjoyed the realism in game play of this one, it was well made. When a player makes a pass to a teammate to score, the computer makes a beep. Please don't stop the beep in the game. I don't mind it. However, I am about to start playing FUT again, and it's great. There's a lot more depth to the game. The previous FUT was limited to just players. So you're basically left to find the player you want. Now, it has the licenses for every team in the world. You don't need to track down an elusive player. And the game boasts new players and new clubs to play with. I haven't got a crystal ball, but I can see FUT growing from this. I found that the game worked very well, it was easy to play and use. It was always accurate in its representation of how football works. The gameplay was crisp and smooth. The stadiums had plenty of atmosphere when you play at them. The game's presentation is like nothing else. The game is packed with beautiful cinematics. Real visuals, like the atmosphere of a stadium, time of day and all the other stuff you can't see in the game. Amazing
